

Flight Training Temporarily Suspended

Due to low enrollments it has become necessary to temporarily suspend our flight program. It is our desire to reinstate the program in March of 2010. However in order to do this we must have firm commitments for potential students including an up front deposit of $1,000 by December 31st, 2009. We require a minimum of three students to make this program viable. If three or more students enroll by this date, we will pursue an instructor and begin the class. If we do not have at least three students enroll for the program in March, an enrolled student drops from the program (thus losing his deposit), or we are unable to procure an instructor, you will be notified as well, and your deposit refunded.

If you are interested in flight it is imperative you check with us on a regular basis regarding its potential status and start up. Please do not make commitments or assume that this start up date is firm until officially notified by us. Do not base your enrollment in ERT on an assumption that there will be a flight program in March 2010.
